TO REQUEST CRIMINAL ACTION.

Minnesota Redskins After an Alleged Forger.

Duluth, Feb. 1.—Criminal action against the person who forged the names of 380 Chippewa Indians to a petition asking congress to allow the Morris law to remain as it stands is to be instituted by the outraged residents of the reservation of Northern Minnesota.

With a view to starting such prosecution the Indians from all over the reservation have appointed a committee of five to communicate with United States District Attorney C. C. Haupt of St. Paul, asking his advice as to how to proceed. The committee has forwarded to that official a copy of affidavit of Rev. Charles Wright, showing how these names were secured by the person forging this petition.

"In this connection," the Indians say, "we would state that Secretary Nye of the public affairs committee of the Minneapolis Commercial club has stated through the public press that the petition and list of names was furnished by Dr. Crafts of Minneapolis."

WAREHOUSE BADLY DAMAGED.

Loss by Fire at Winnipeg is Very Heavy.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 1.—The east half of the Canadian Pacific bonded warehouse was destroyed by fire at night. The portion destroyed was 400 feet long by 60 feet wide and was filled with liquors, silks, teas and other goods. The loss will be fully $100,000. Only a fireproof wall saved the loss of at least ten times that amount. A live wire is blamed for the origin of the fire.

Wood Succeeds Corbin.

Manila, Feb. 1.—Major General H. C. Corbin during the day relinquished command of the military division of the Philippines to Major General Leonard Wood and sailed for Hong Kong, accompanied by his personal staff. The transfer of command was made with impressive ceremony at Port Santiago.

STANDARD OIL CASE

MISSOURI'S ATTORNEY GENERAL BELIEVES ROGERS WILL YET ANSWER QUESTIONS.

SUSTAINS THE OIL MAGNATE

DECISION IS HANDED DOWN BY JUSTICE GILDERSLEEVE OF NEW YORK COURT.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 1.—Regarding the decision handed down in New York by Justice Gildersleeve in the supreme court that Henry H. Rogers shall not be compelled to answer questions he recently refused to answer in reference to the Standard Oil company, Attorney General Hadley made the following statement:

"From a telegram received from Henry Wollman of New York, I am advised that Judge Gildersleeve's decision is to the effect that he will not compel Mr. Rogers to answer questions asked him pending the decision by the supreme court of Missouri concerning the questions certified to it by Judge Anthony. This case was referred by the supreme court of the state of Missouri to Judge Anthony and he has decided that similar questions to those asked Mr. Rogers were material and Judge Gildersleeve at the conclusion of the arguments before him also decided that the questions asked Mr. Rogers were proper and material, and his decision indicates that he is still of the same opinion. If the supreme court of the state of Missouri decides that this question has not been certified to by Judge Anthony, or if it decides that the position taken by Judge Anthony and Judge Gildersleeve in reference to the materiality of these questions is correct then under the decision of Judge Gildersleeve it will be necessary for Mr. Rogers to answer the questions."

ROGERS IS SUSTAINED.

New York Judge Decides Oil Magnate Need Not Reply to Questions.

New York, Feb. 1.—A decision that Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, shall not be compelled to answer the questions which he recently refused to answer in the taking of testimony here in the case of the state of Missouri against the Standard Oil company of Indiana and other oil companies was handed down by Justice Gildersleeve in the supreme court. The application to compel Mr. Rogers to answer the questions was made by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri. The companies affected in this case are the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Republic Oil company. The state of Missouri seeks to oust them from doing business in Missouri. The application was denied for the reason that, in Justice Gildersleeve's opinion, the court of original jurisdiction in Missouri should determine the question raised by Mr. Hadley. Leave to renew this application was granted Mr. Hadley.

LITTLE OF IMPORTANCE.

Occurs in Hearing of Packers' Case in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—No facts of great importance were developed at the day's hearing of the packers' case. Edward Morris, treasurer of the Fairbank Canning company; Ira N. Morris, his brother, secretary of the same corporation, and Edward F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co., were the only witnesses on the stand.

The direct examination of Edward Morris was almost concluded the previous day, and he was cross-examined during the day at considerable length by District Attorney Morrison. He was asked if there was anything in the books of his company which might have convicted him of violation of an injunction issued some time previous to the Garfield investigation by Judge Grosscup of the federal bench in this city, enjoining the packers from combining in restraint of trade, but the court declared that he could not be required to answer the question.

Ira N. Morris and Edward Swift declared that they had been assured by Commissioner Garfield that none of the information he secured from them would be turned over to the department of justice.

A great part of the day was taken up by the arguments of the attorneys over the propriety of questions asked the witnesses.

Three More Bodies Recovered.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 1.—The tug Lorne landed ten men at the wreck of the Valencia during the morning and recovered three bodies, those of William Sibley, Jr., and two children

"LORD" BARRINGTON TO DIE.

Murderer of James P. McCann to Be Executed in March.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 1.—A decision was handed down in the supreme court during the day affirming the decision of the lower court in finding "Lord" Seymour Barrington guilty of having murdered James P. McCann two years ago and fixing the date of his execution as March 15 next.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—"Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington is now in the Clayton jail, where he has been since June, 1903, following the discovery of the nude body of James P. McCann, a well known horseman, in a quarry near Bonifis, St. Louis county. Barrington was later arrested at the home of McCann on Grand avenue.

The prosecution charged that he killed McCann and wore McCann's clothing to the city, although it was bloodstained.

Barrington has always declared that the body found was not that of McCann, and that the horseman will turn up alive some day.

When informed of the court's decision, Barrington broke down and wept, but had nothing to say.

When it became known at the Clayton jail that the supreme court had decreed the execution of "Lord" Barrington, Jailer Roth immediately had the prisoner's cell thoroughly searched, and a rope about four feet long, a two-bladed knife and a whetstone were found. Barrington was also compelled to don new clothing. He said the rope, knife and whetstone were given him by a prisoner who is not now in jail.

KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

French Chauffeur Commits Murder and Suicide.

New York, Feb. 1.—Adolph Fourte, a Frenchman, who was employed as mechanic and chauffeur by W. Gould Brokaw of Great Neck, L. I., went to New Rochelle, N. Y., at night and shot and killed his wife in her apartments there and then killed himself. The police believe the act was due to jealousy.

SENSATION IN BRITAIN

CREATED BY STATEMENT THAT

JAPAN WILL URGE HER TO RE-ORGANIZE HER ARMY.

Tokio, Feb. 1.—At a meeting of the budget committee during the day Mr. Oishi, leader of the Progressist party, interpellated General Terauchi, minister of war, as to whether the government, as the result of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, intends to urge the British government to reform its army organization. The minister replied that the government would do so at some future date.

London, Feb. 1.—The above cablegram from Tokio is likely to cause a sensation throughout Great Britain. For the moment most of the papers refrain from comment under the idea that a wrong impression might have been conveyed through a close telegraphic summary or by a telegraphic error.

The Daily Mail says it is reluctant to believe that the common rules of international courtesy have been intentionally disregarded. It expressed the belief that the statement of General Terauchi will result in diplomatic correspondence.

The Daily News in an editorial says "It is not an agreeable pill for a proud people to swallow," and points with dramatic emphasis to the extraordinary story of the past twenty years since the Gilbert and Sullivan opera of "The Mikado" represented "our notions of Japan." The paper adds that "If this miracle happens in twenty years, what may not happen in fifty years?"

COMMISSIONERS OF INSURANCE.

Holding Their National Convention in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—The national convention of insurance commissioners began here during the day with representatives from all parts of the country in attendance. The day's session was devoted to the examination of the credentials of the delegates and to the appointment of committees to consider the suggestions which have been submitted to Temporary Chairman T. C. Drake, insurance commissioner of the District of Columbia, and the accredited representative of President Roosevelt.

The committee on the programme is composed of the following delegates: T. C. Drake, insurance commissioner of the District of Columbia; B. F. Crause, Maryland; E. E. Rittenhouse, Colorado; J. J. Brinker, Illinois, and Thomas D. O'Brien, Minnesota.

The New Wash Goods are Arriving

Many are ready for showing. Handsome effects particularly adapted for the evening gown. Then we have received many of the popular priced ones for ladies' and children's wear; neat designs which are so hard to secure for the child's wear.

There will be a radical change in the styles of wash fabrics this season. For several seasons they have been of the heavier qualities, none particularly adapted for shirt waistsuits, but this season's styles are of the lighter materials and the patterns are sure to please—they are new. Courteous sales people will gladly show you these fabrics for the asking.

No Corset Like the W. B.

They are built along lines which are distinctively their own and which have made them the success that they are.

Whether a stout figure, a medium figure or a slender figure, we have a corset for each one—not only one to fit and wear comfortably, but one that will wear satisfactorily.

The garment shown in the illustration is a high bust corset which is so necessary to build the figure to conform with the present vogue. It is finished in the superior manner all W. B. corsets are finished in and sold at $1.00

DEADLOCK IS NOW ON

COAL OPERATORS AND MINERS UNABLE TO AGREE ON QUESTION OF WAGES.

MEN INSIST UPON INCREASE

WHILE THE EMPLOYERS REMAIN FIRM IN REFUSING TO ACCEDE TO DEMANDS.

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—A deadlock is now on between the coal operators and miners of both the Central competitive and Southwest districts. John Mitchell, president of the miners, during the day delivered his ultimatum to the joint scale committee of the Central district, declaring that there must be no increase in wages or there will be no agreement. F. L. Robbins of Pittsburgh, speaking for the operators, declared that the operators stand against any advance whatever. The operators of the Southwest district united with the operators of the Central district in caucus and both agreed to stand by the position taken by Mr. Robbins.

The operators, although demanding the present wage scale, agreed to grant the run-of-mine basis in Illinois with the price for pick mining 52 cents a ton; this to carry all necessary expense of shot-firing and timbering. The miners claim that the qualification regarding shot-firing and timbering is antagonistic to an Illinois statute which requires the employment of professional shot-firers.

The general impression is that the meeting of the joint scale committee will result in the signing of a formal disagreement, which report will be made to a session of the joint conference and then referred to the miners' convention.

A prominent floor leader of the operators said:

"Everything is trembling in the balance. There is no predicting the outcome. Fifteen minutes in the scale committee may change it all."

Officials of the mine workers are quoted as being opposed to an adjournment of the joint conference without a settlement of some sort.

The operators at the late afternoon session of the joint scale committee of the Central district presented their demands, which was that the present scale stand. The committee then adjourned for the day.

Immediately following the adjournment of the committee a call was issued for the reassembling of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at 2 o'clock p. m.

BODY PLACED IN PLAIN CASKET.

Remains of King Christian Rest in the Garden Room.

Copenhagen, Feb. 1.—The body of King Christian has been placed in a plain casket which is lined with swan's down and covered with black silk. It lies in the apartment of the Amalienborg palace known as the "garden room," to which it was removed after a memorial service in the afternoon. Only the court physicians were present when the body was removed from the bed to the casket, following the service at which most members of the royal family were present.

Great banks of flowers and wreaths line the hall, which is guarded by the king's adjutants. No official announcement regarding the date of the funeral has yet been given out.

It is stated that King Christian left only a small fortune, amounting probably to less than $250,000. The king was exceedingly charitable and gave large sums of money for relief of the poor and to deserving institutions.

King Frederick has issued a decree of amnesty, releasing many offenders.

AGAINST JAMES HAZEN HYDE.

Suit Started by Equitable Life Assurance Society.

New York, Feb. 2.—President Paul Morton of the Equitable Life Assurance society, has announced that suit has been started against James H. Hyde for the recovery of approximately $72,000, representing Mr. Hyde's profits in syndicates which sold securities to the society. Mr. Morton also announced that suits were in preparation against various men who had profited by leases of the spaces in buildings owned by the Equitable to the so-called subsidiary companies, and that these and other claims of the society growing out of the acts of the old Equitable administration were being pushed as rapidly as possible.

Disorders Again Break Out.

Elizabethopol, Transcaucasia, Feb. 1.—Disorders have again broken out in this region between Elizabethopol and Shusha, where the Armenians and Tartars are massacring each other.

DARING POLITICAL CRIME.

Russian Councillor Filonoff Assassinated at Peltava.

Poltava, Feb. 1.—A daring political crime was committed here during the day at the entrance to the administration building when Provincial Councillor Filonoff was fired at five times and killed by an unknown assassin. Filonoff was held responsible by the terrorists for the ruthless severity with which the agrarian disorders in the province had been suppressed.

Chinese Leave Washington.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The members of the Chinese Imperial commission spent their last day in the capital by saying farewell to the different authorities who have entertained them, and by visiting the senate and the house of representatives. They left at night for New York.

Japan's Financial Scheme.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Despite the opposition in the Japanese diet to the post-bellum financial scheme of the government, information has reached the Japanese embassy here that the home government is confident that the measure will eventually be adopted.

Kentuckian Kills His Wife.

Sparta, Ky., Feb. 1.—William Taylor, aged twenty-two, shot and instantly killed his wife and probably fatally wounded himself at the home of his father-in-law, Morton Baker. Taylor was married in November. Both are of prominent family.

THE location of an additional undertaker at Little Falls is no sign the town is a dead one, quite the contrary.

DULUTH lays claims to being the healthiest city in the world. They certainly have more fresh air there to the square inch than any other place on the map and that may account for it.

THE Fergus Falls Journal says there are strong reasons for believing that Granville S. Pease, of the Anoka Union, would accept the republican nomination for governor, and then spill the whole pail of milk by making the assertion that Pease would not be able to put up the fight necessary to insure victory.

ACCORDING to Washington dispatches Cass county must give up one-half of township 146.30 to Beltrami county, Ass't. Attorney General Purdy having decided that it rightfully belongs to them and hereafter the new maps of that county will show that this territory is included within its boundary lines. The case was brought up at the attorney general's office by M. D. Stoner, county surveyor of Beltrami county, who had some doubts to the legality of the legislative action. The act was passed several years ago, when Beltrami and Cass were unorganized counties. Upon investigating the matter, the attorney general found that according to the constitution of the state the legislature could not take such action in case the county from which the territory is to be taken, is organized.

ADVERTISING SUMMER season attractions and keeping before the public the advantages offered to tourists and those seeking a place to spend an outing during the sultry summer months would be a great source of profit to Northern Minnesota and especially to every locality that has the advantage of beautiful lakes and excellent fishing to offer. The knowledge of what Minnesota has in this line is becoming better known each year, but not through any great effort of those who should advertise the fact, but rather from the tourists themselves who go home after a summer spent in enjoying the pleasures offered and their enthusiasm induces others to come to Minnesota for their summer recreation. The people of this section do not seem to understand or realize that we have the finest lake region in the world, fishing that cannot be excelled, and an atmosphere that puts new life and vigor into a man, and that it is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars in a financial way, for those who can afford these luxuries are people of means who do not stop at small expenditures. Given half the publicity that some of the eastern resorts are Northern Minnesota would be the envy of the world.

The following regarding A. H. Opsahl, of Minneapolis, a brother of Alderman A. M. Opsahl is taken from the Minneapolis Journal:

"Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Opsahl celebrated their crystal wedding anniversary Monday evening in their apartments on Sixth street S. by entertaining fifty of their friends most delightfully. The program of the evening included music by a string quartet and piano and vocal solos. Mr. and Mrs. Opsahl were showered with handsome gifts as a souvenir of the occasion, and the presentation and acceptance of these gave opportunity for many pleasant exchanges."

Wagner and Schumann.

Wagner, writing in 1846, said of Schumann: "He is a highly gifted musician, but an impossible man. When I came from Paris I went to see him. I told him of my Parisian experiences, spoke of the state of music in France, then of that in Germany, spoke of literature and politics, but he remained as good as dumb for nearly an hour. One cannot go on talking quite alone. An impossible man!" Schumann gave an account of this interview, which practically agrees with that of Wagner. "I have seldom met Wagner," he said, "but he is a man of education and spirit. He talks, however, unceasingly, and that one cannot endure for long together."

The Achaean League.

The Achaean league was formed by the twelve towns of Achaia for mutual protection against foreign aggression. It was broken up by Alexander the Great, but reorganized B. C. 280 and again dissolved B. C. 147. The second of these leagues comprised all the leading cities of the Peloponnese and, indeed, most of the cities and states of Greece. It was this league which contended with the Romans for the independence of Greece; but, its troops being defeated by Metellus at Scarpaea and by Mummius near Corinth, the league was dissolved, and all Greece submitted to the Roman domination.

The Use of Sarcasm.

For many years one of the states was represented in the senate by a man who possessed many fine qualities, but who frequently injured the causes he advocated and alienated those who desired to be friendly by his sarcastic manner both in speaking and in writing. The senator had an intimate friend who had written to him to urge the appointment of another friend to a position under the government. To this letter the senator returned a very sarcastic answer, declining at the same time to recommend the appointment. It is said that he never forgot the merited rebuke he received from the friend who had suggested the appointment.

"My Dear Senator—I think it would be well for you to reserve your sarcasm for the rapidly increasing number of your enemies instead of offering it to the decreasing number of your friends, of whom I am one."

Soon after the senator received this communication he brought about the desired appointment.

A Prehistoric Monument.

In southern California, in the county of San Luis Obispo, there is situated one of the most remarkable prehistoric monuments known to the archaeologists. From a distance it looks like an immense rock rising from the plains of Carissa, but upon nearer approach it is seen to be a temple of extraordinary dimensions and of unknown antiquity. The inner court has a level floor 225 feet long and 125 feet wide, and the ceiling is from 60 to 100 feet high, according to situation. The building was evidently used by prehistoric man, but for what purpose and how long since no one knows. It has been suggested, however, that it was either a temple of worship or the capitol of some ancient government. The walls and portions of the ceiling are beautifully decorated with paintings in colors red, white and black, many of them supposed to have some symbolic meaning.

Christmas in England.

When Cromwell ruled England he issued an edict against all festivities at Christmas. The festival was altogether abolished, and the displaying of holy and mistletoe and other emblems of the happy time was held to be seditions. In 1644 the long parliament commanded that Christmas day should be observed as a strict fast, when all people should think over and deplore the great sin of which they and their forefathers had been guilty in making merry at that season. This act so provoked the people that on the following natal day the law was violently resisted in many places. Though these scenes were disgraceful, they served their purpose and put an end to an unjust order. When Charles II. regained the throne the populace once more made Christmas a time of rejoicing.

The Great Bed of Ware.

In Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" Sir Toby Belch urges Sir Andrew Aguecheek to pen a challenge and to put in it "as many lies as will lie in the sheet of paper, although the sheet were big enough for the bed of Ware." This enormous bed, which was a wonder in Shakespeare's time and still exists in Ware, is seven feet six inches high and ten feet nine inches square, so that twelve people can lie comfortably in it. Beautifully carved, it is a splendid specimen of antique furniture, dating from the days of Queen Elizabeth. This wonderful bed is naturally an object of curiosity and interest to many visitors. In the same room there hung a pair of horns, upon which all strangers formerly were sworn.

Evils of Anxiety.

Anxiety is the poison of human life. It is the parent of many sins and of more miseries. In a world where everything is doubtful, where you may be disappointed and be blessed in disappointment, what means this restless stir and commotion of mind? Can your solicitude alter the cause or unravel the intricacy of human events? Can your curiosity pierce through the cloud which the Supreme Being hath made impenetrable to mortal eye? To provide against every important danger by the employment of the most promising means is the office of wisdom, but at this point wisdom stops.—Selected.

The Simple Life.

For a cultured person to relinquish his wonted mode of life, to dwell in a three roomed cottage, to be clad in corduroy or fustian and to fare sumptuously every day on beans, cabbage soup and black bread would not be a return to the simple but to the sordid life. One can live a simple life just as well in a castle as in a cottage.—Race Builder.

PRESIDENT A PATRIOT

DEMOCRATIC SENATOR PATTERSON ENDORSES FOREIGN POLICY OF ROOSEVELT.

THE RAILROAD RATE BILL

CONTINUES TO BE THE MAIN SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION IN THE LOWER HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 1.—In the senate during the day Mr. Patterson strongly endorsed the position of the president in Santo Domingo and in the matter of the Moroccan conference. He said that he was sorry to differ from his Democratic colleagues, but that he felt it his duty to do so in these matters. He also expressed absolute confidence in the patriotism of the president and in his good faith in announcing his determination not to again be a candidate for the presidency.

The remainder of the session was devoted to a debate on the shipping bill.

RAILROAD RATE BILL.

Continues to Be the Subject of Discussion in the House.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Discussion of the railroad rate bill continued in the house during the day. Incident to it, two speeches, the efforts of Mr. Campbell (Kan.) and Mr. Martin (S. D.), took a wider range and swept the horizon of "trust evils" generally.

Mr. Bartlett (Ga.), a minority member of the committee reporting the bill, made a two-hours' speech in which he discussed the legal and constitutional questions involved and advocated the passage of the bill as the proper remedy for an intolerable condition. The first speech in opposition to the bill, which concluded the day's discussion, was made by Mr. Perkins (N. Y.). He based his opposition to government control of rates to an inherent aversion to government control of business enterprise. Red tape and fixed conditions, he said, were an inseparable part of government action on any matter.

A bill was passed granting a federal charter to the Carnegie Foundation for the advancement of teaching. The fund consists of $10,000,000, the income of which is to furnish a pension to retired educators.

ARE NOW CARNEGIE HEROES.

Men Who Saved Those on Board the Cherokee Rewarded.

Pittsburg, Feb. 1.—Captain Mark Casto of the fishing schooner Alberta and his crew of six men, who on Jan. 14, in a fierce gale rescued the crew and passengers from the Clyde liner Cherokee on Brigantine shoals, have been made beneficiaries of the Carnegie hero fund. Besides medals to the captain and crew, a sum aggregating $9,500 is awarded.

This is the quickest action taken by the Carnegie hero fund commission since its inception. Captain Casto, besides receiving a gold medal, is awarded $1,500. In addition $5,000 is to be set aside as a special fund for the education of Mark Jacob Casto, the nine-year-old son of Captain Casto. The crew, who are Nels Gregersen, Frederick Bouchie, Marcus Nelson, Joseph M. Shute, Axel Holmquist and Lewis J. Johnson, besides receiving a silver medal, are each awarded $500, such sum to be placed to the credit of each.

MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL.

Will Be Made in Behalf of Albert T. Patrick.

New York, Feb. 1.—Notice of a motion for a new trial in the case of Albert T. Patrick, on the grounds of newly discovered evidence, was served late in the day on the district attorney. The motion is returnable Feb. 9. The principal ground urged on the motion is, substantially, that new evidence has been obtained to show that William M. Rice did not die of chloroform, but instead died a natural death and that Jones, the valet, since his release here, has made many statements to persons in Texas to the effect that he never killed Rice. One of these statements, all of which appear as sworn affidavits, is that Jones said he would return to New York and plead guilty to a charge of perjury if he was promised only a light sentence. The notice includes many affidavits and statements by physicians who signify their willingness to testify for Patrick if a new trial is ordered.

Husband Charged With Murder.

Pittsburg, Feb. 1.—Andrew J. Abel, who has been in jail pending an investigation as to the cause of his wife's death, which occurred at their home here on Jan. 8, has been charged with murder by the coroner's jury. Mrs. Abel was stabbed to death and her body saturated with oil and then partially burned.

Cow Wrecks a Train.

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 1.—Westbound Louisville and Atlantic freight train No. 22, which left Richmond at 6 p. m., struck a cow and was wrecked at Foster's station, five miles west of here. Engineer Paul Ackers was instantly killed. Fireman John Ruhard and brakeman Seth Cates were fatally injured.

THE MAN ON FOOT.

In Stamboul He Has No Rights as Against the Horseman.

One of the peculiarities in Stamboul is the insolent demeanor of the horseman to the footman. Many times daily you will see some rascal of a cabman trying to drive down a well dressed man on the street. The drivers rarely take the trouble to shout as they approach pedestrians. I was often filled with wonder at observing the meekness with which well dressed Turks on foot submitted to such treatment from shabby Turks on carriage boxes. Even when no injury was done to such a pedestrian, he was often bespattered with mud. Stamboul must be an unpleasant place in which to live. Were cabmen in our country to treat pedestrians so recklessly there would be many cases of assault and battery, and I think some mortality among the Jehus.

One day I saw a uniformed Turk picking his way across the street, using his saber as a walking stick. A carriage suddenly dashed down on him, and its driver, after nearly running over him, hurled at him a volley of what sounded like choice Turkish abuse. The uniformed Turk retorted not. He scraped the mud off his uniform, stuck his saber under his arm and waded ashore. In our country a man with a saber would have used it on the driver's back. By this I do not mean that the Turks are lacking in spirit—far from it, but apparently it would seem to be the custom of the country that the man on foot, as against the man on horseback, has no rights.—"A Levantine Log Book," by Jerome Hart.

Clams According to Order.

Bill Handy of Marblehead, an ardent Republican during the antislavery agitation, caught fish and sold clams for a livelihood. One of his customers, a strong Democrat, ordered some clams and told him to be sure and cut off the "black abolition heads." When he delivered them he said, "Mr. Brown, here are your clams; real Democrats—all bodies and no heads."—Boston Herald.

Possible Explanation.

An old hen was pecking at some stray carpet tacks in the back yard.

"Now, what do you suppose that fool hen is eating those tacks for?" said Homer.

"Perhaps," rejoined his better half, "she is going to lay a carpet."—Chicago News.

Courtesies.

Cabby—I 'ad a beard like yours once, but when I 'ad found what it made me look like I got it cut off. Bussy—An' I 'ad a face like yours once, an' when I found I couldn't get it cut off I grew a beard.—Punch.

It is impossible to found a lasting power upon injustice and treachery.—Demosthenes.

A Modern Miracle.

"Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodford, Tenn., "she was so wasted by coughing up puss from her lungs. Doctors declared her end so near that her family had watched by her bedside forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began, and continued until she finally completely recovered, and is a healthy woman today." PRES. AMBROSE TIGHE TO BUILD POWER PLANT

Proposes to Put in Dam on Crow Wing River a few Miles from City for that Purpose

IF FRANCHISE IS EXTENDED

Meeting of President Tighe with Water Works Committee Held Last Evening

There was another round in the water works proposition last night, another step toward the settlement of one of the most vital questions that has confronted the people of Brainerd in many years, and yet very little progress has been made, except perhaps that matters contingent to the big proposition were laid bare before the committee of the city council and the Commercial Club by President Ambrose Tighe, of the Minnesota Water Works company, and questions were approached which must be settled ere long.

President Tighe arrived in the city yesterday and an appointment was made with the committees above named. There were present at the meeting last night Messrs. G. D. LaBar, J. M. Elder, Werner Hemstead, M. E. Ryan and W. D. McKay representing the Commercial Club and Messrs. George Halladay, Peter Peterson and F. A. Farrar representing the city council.

Some time ago President Tighe submitted a water works franchise ordinance, and briefly this was discussed last night at the meeting. There were suggestion on the part of the members of the committee that propositions therein were not acceptable to the city, but these discussions were only of a general nature and nothing was done with the franchise ordinance except as to this discussion in a general way.

In addition to this water works franchise submitted by President Tighe he had another proposition to make last night which is of great importance, but which is entirely contingent upon the question as to whether or not the water works franchise to Mr. Tighe will be extended for another term of years. This is the question of constructing a big water power plant on Crow Wing river below the mouth of Gull river to cost in the neighborhood of a quarter of million dollars.

It has been known for some time that President Tighe had such a scheme on, in fact, men have been working for some time sounding the bottom of the river at this point and other steps have been taken to secure the riparian rights. Sixty acres of land was purchased some time ago at this point for the purpose. The proposition made by Mr. Tighe was to furnish not only power for an immense water works plant, but to furnish power for electric lighting purposes and for all other purposes if necessary. It is proposed to put in a dam at this place that would furnish approximately 1,000 horse-power. This location is about six miles from Brainerd.

There was very little doing at the meeting last night, notwithstanding President Tighe was present and no action was taken at all regarding the proposition made to the water works franchise matter.

To a representative of THE DISPATCH Mr. Tighe said this morning: "I had thought that the committees had thoroughly digested this matter so that when a meeting was called that we could enter into the matter and discuss the facts and every expedient phase of the question. There was a general discussion, but it is not general propositions that we wish to discuss now."

Mr. Tighe referred to the reports of Engineer Kapplen, of Minneapolis, but he thinks that they are entirely out of place, in fact are prohibitive from the very nature of the law. The one proposition that the city bring water from Gilbert or Long Lake would cost the city, according to Mr. Kapplen's figures about $180,000, which is large in excess of what the city could bond for. This, according to Mr. Tighe, would not be enough to build the plant anyway. He figured that the proposed plant would cost $225,000. The same would be true of the filtering plant, which was another proposition figured out by Mr. Kapplen.

In a nutshell President Tighe made a proposition to build a water plant that would furnish power for all city purposes, power that would reduce, according to his figures, even the rental for water, that would give power adequate for an electric light plant, and would give power to manufacturing industries that might invade the city. The fact is that the committees were not ready to consider the question and the meeting adjourned after a lot of discussion.

A BUNCH OF FLOWERS.

In Palestine and Persia the "sorrowful mycanthus" droops in the day, being apparently about to die, but revives as evening comes on.

Tulips are so sensitive to the light that during a cloudy day they will often close their petals and remain shut up until a return of sunlight.

Lilies of the valley in France are called "virgin's tears" and are said to have sprung up on the road between Calvary and Jerusalem during the night following the crucifixion.

The night blooming cereus blossoms about an hour before midnight, but by the approach of daylight the flower is a complete wreck, having lost all its beauty and fragrance.

The four-petaled lotus in an exposed situation makes a cover for its flower by drawing one or more of the leaves over the blossom and keeping them there during the heat of the day.

OLD FRIENDS IN LIFE

Die Almost the Same Day—Friend of Luke Flood Passed Away After Hearing of Death of Friend

Within twenty-four hours of the time when his friend dropped dead at his home, William O'Connell, of 2013 West Superior street, was also stricken and expired before his relatives could summon assistance.

Mr. O'Connell had not been well for some time previous to his death. This morning he went to attend to the furnace fire, and after completing his work he walked into the sitting room, and seating himself in a chair, expired almost instantly.

Mr. O'Connell was a great friend of Luke Flood, whose death occurred under almost the same circumstances yesterday. Mr. Flood and Mr. O'Connell had been very intimate for several years past. Neither of the men had been in good health for the last few months, and the appeared to find much solace in each other's company.

Mr. Flood's death yesterday appeared to affect his friend greatly, and he was deeply moved by the news, but his family did not expect any serious results from the shock.—Duluth Herald.

There was an interesting session of Unity Lodge, I. O. O. F., last night in Odd Fellow hall, when the initiatory degree was given to two candidates. After the work of the evening addresses were given by Grand Master Hugo, of Duluth, Grand Chief Patriarch R. E. McFarland, of Duluth, and Grand Representative Alex Van Praag. After this there was a social hour and luncheon was served. The event was an especially interesting one to all Odd Fellows and there was a large attendance.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS."

The following regarding the "High School Girls" the attraction at the Brainerd opera house next Tuesday night is taken from the Duluth Herald:

"The High school Girls are destined to have a run of prosperity at the Metropolitan. They made emphatically good with a crowded house last evening and will probably do the same all week. Their show is clever, their songs pretty, their lines satisfactory and their costumes elaborate. The High School Girls call their burlesque—it is in two acts—'Whirligiggle,' and it gives two German comedians of some repute in the realm of burlesque, Nat and Sol Fields, a chance to be funny. They take advantage of their opportunities in good style. Another good thing about the High School Girls and their production is that many of their songs are new. There is not the same old list that everyone has been hearing all season. They have some new ones and they are all good. The specialties are excellent, the turn contributed by the six Flying Banavards being the best acrobatic act that has been seen at the 'Met.' The Banavards are circus people of note and they accomplish all their midair stunts with ease and grace. Billy Hart and Emma Westor have a slangy and very acceptable skit. Their burlesque on the mind reading and second sight stunt is very funny. Jimmie Hughes and Jimmie Hazleton have a travesty on scenes from 'Damon and Pythias' that is very good and Marie Jensen, singer of illustrated songs, makes a hit."

"PIFF PAFF POUF."

B. C. Whitney's gorgeous musical production, which will be seen Feb. 14 at the Brainerd opera house was written by Stanislaus Stange, author of 'Dolly Varden' and many other successful productions. The music and lyrics are by Jerome and Schwartz, whose success as song writers has not been equalled, and in 'Piff, Paff Pout' these brilliant composers have added to their reputation with over twenty-one immense song successes.

Fred Mace assumes Eddy Fox's former part as Peter Poulfe, the Sandman, and Robert E. Graham, a comedian of ability, enacts the character of August Melon, and the widow falls to Kathryn Osterman. Others in the cast will be Dorothy Maynard, James Devlin, Lulu McConnell, Walter H. Cluxton, Eveleen Dunmore, Harry Stuart, Mae Ellwood, Martin Cheeseman, Lisle Bloodgood and others, including the famous 'Pony Ballet,' conceded to be the greatest octette of dancing girls in the world, assisted by the American Beauty chorus comprising the brightest, and prettiest singing, acting and dancing choruses ever organized.

Among the principal song successes are the following: 'I'm The Ghost That Never Walked,' 'Love, Love, Love,' 'I'm So Happy,' 'Ching Ling Fong,' 'Only You,' 'Under The Goo Goo Tree,' 'Cordelia Malone,' 'The Melancholy Sunbeam and The Rose,' 'I Don't Want Any Wurtzburger,' and 'Dolly Dimple.' Prices $1.50 to 50 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Grennell Formerly Lived Here, Being Related to White Brothers

I. U. White yesterday received the sad news by telegram from Oakland, Cal., that Charles Grennell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grennell, formerly residents of this city, was killed at that place on Saturday.

The young man was working for an electric power concern and although the details of the accident are not given it is presumed that death was the result of electric shock.

Mrs. Grennell is a sister of the White brothers here, and Mrs. W. S. Tracy, and the family formerly lived here. The young man was 17 years of age.

The Term "Prime Minister."

"Prime minister" is one of the many terms in English which seem to have been slang at one time. It was first applied to Sir Robert Walpole, but in a reproachful sense. Feb. 11, 1742, after twenty years' tenure of office, Sir Robert resigned all his employments. "Having invested me," he remarked, "with a kind of mock dignity and styled me prime minister, they impute to me an unpardonable abuse of that chimerical authority which they created and conferred." Such a personage as the prime minister or the premier is not even mentioned in the official table of precedence and is unknown to the written constitution of Great Britain.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrhal Germs—Sold Under Guarantee by H. P. Dunn & Co.

There is no more common disease than catarrh, and none that is more dangerous. It weakens and debilitates the whole system, if it is allowed to run, leads to serious, and sometimes fatal complications.

It is a note-worthy fact that among the many medicines and treatments for catarrh, there is only one which H. P. Dunn & Co. sell under their positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.—Hyomei, nature's remedy for the cure of catarrh.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei can be procured, whenever needed, for only 50 cents.

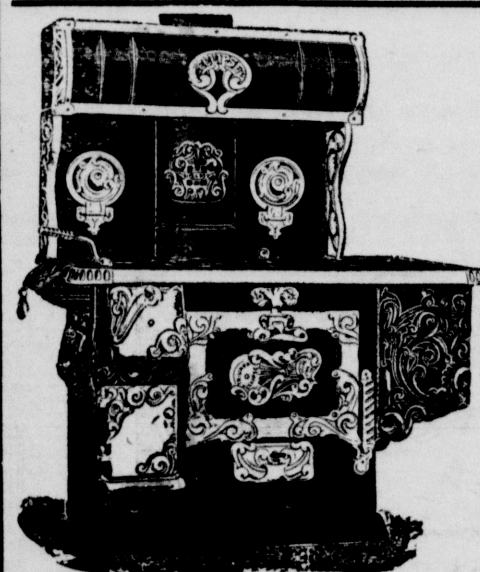

H. P. Dunn & Co. are selling a good many Hyomei outfits at this season, and they have so much confidence in the remedy that they guarantee to refund the money in case it does not cure.

CRITICISMS BY TAFT

HELD TO BE WITHOUT FOUNDATION IN FACT BY ROBERT P. SCHWEREIN.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Robert P. Schwerrein, general manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, was before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals during the day. His attention was called to a statement made by Secretary Taft criticizing the service between Panama and San Francisco for its part in contributing to the congestion of freight at Panama. In reply he said:

"Secretary Taft's statement was made either through malice tending to injure an American industry or through ignorance of the causes of the difficulties of which he has complained."

A description of the conditions on the isthmus since the canal commission took charge of the Panama railway was given by Mr. Schwerrein.

He said that freight had accumulated on the wharves, commercial shipments having been held up by the moving of canal materials and the difficulty Mr. Schwerrein said was carelessness of the managers of the railway and their utter indifference to their duties as a common carrier. The canal property had been deteriorating for two years before the United States took it.

"As soon as control of the road passed to the United States," said Mr. Schwerrein, "the conditions described began to grow worse. The railway management cut the wages of men working on the docks, which caused a strike and our laborers followed. As a result we are both paying higher wages than we were before for the poorest labor in the world. It became the understanding the United States had bought the railway to build the canal and cared nothing for commercial business across the isthmus."

Commercial business neglected.

Commercial business was neglected and it was said by Secretary Taft, Mr. Wallace, Admiral Walker, the former chairman of the commission, and others connected with the building of the canal that commerce was secondary to the movement of canal material. It was that indifference that brought about the congestion."

Mr. Schwerrein said he had used every means to bring about improved conditions, even making a protest to the state department to have it appeal to Panama.

He complained also that the Panama railway had arbitrarily reduced rates from New York to ports on the Pacific coast, where the haul was divided between the Panama Steamship company and the Pacific Mail. He said he was informed that the reduction was a concession to the steel trust, which had protested to Admiral Walker, the former chairman of the canal commission, that the rates were cheaper from Europe to Central America than from New York to the same ports. Secretary Taft had then taken the matter up, said Mr. Schwerrein, and authorized a reduction of the rates.

It was denied by Mr. Schwerrein that his company had a monopoly on the Pacific coast and he declared that there had been no money in the business between San Francisco and Panama.

OUTDOOR SLEEP'S USE

Best Cure For Nervousness, Says a Society Woman.

PLACE COT IN A PIAZZA CORNER

If No Porch Is Available, Construct a Room on the Top of the House, Says Mrs. Blanche C. Martin to an Audience of Society Women in New York—She Has Slept Outdoors For Five Years.

"Sleep out of doors if you want to know the wild joy of living," was the advice given to society women by Mrs. Blanche C. Martin, an apostle of outdoor life, following a recital which she gave in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York the other afternoon, says the New York Herald.

"I have slept out of doors in a corner of my piazza summer and winter for five years, and in that time I have never had a cold, though on several occasions it was 20 degrees below zero," she said. "I believe that it is a cure for nervousness and many kinds of pulmonary troubles."

"From experience I know that a few hours spent in sleep out of doors is far more beneficial and refreshing than twice the time in a bedroom even with the windows open. The buoyant feeling in the morning following a sleep out of doors is one that surpasses description."

"Awnings properly constructed and let down when it rains will be sufficient guard against getting wet."

"I wear just a simple white linen or muslin nightgown."

"I wouldn't advise any of you to begin sleeping out a very cold night, but for a woman who would like a start mild weather would be all right. Have plenty of warm bedding, good blankets, and you'll be comfortable on the coldest kind of nights."

"I would suggest for such an outdoor sleeping room a second story veranda—one where the cot can be placed in a sheltered nook, but if this is not possible then fix up a room on the roof with a top and have the sides ready to be let down in a storm."

Mrs. Martin is a remarkably healthy looking woman and has such red cheeks that every one in the audience who saw her and heard her read Justin Huntly McCarthy's "If I Were King" longed to be like her.

ROCKEFELLER WIG'S USE.

Friend Says Oil King Really Wears It For Disguise.

When John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, took to wearing a wig less than a year ago he adopted a disguise that has proved almost impenetrable, says a New York dispatch to the Philadelphia Press.

A close friend of Mr. Rockefeller says it was not the millionaire's vanity that prompted the change, but his desire to conceal his identity from an inquisitive public.

Mr. Rockefeller, because of his hairless head and sharp features, used to be easily recognized when traveling about the country. This was vividly impressed upon him during a trip to San Francisco about a year ago, when a porter within three minutes after Mr. Rockefeller got on the train spread the news that "John" was aboard. On his return to Cleveland Mr. Rockefeller bought the wig, and since then he has been able to go about unmolested.

CHURCH IN SKYSCRAPER.

Chicago Congressman Will Worship With Offices on All Sides.

Chicago's tallest church soon will rise at Washington and Clark streets if the plans which were undertaken the other night are carried to completion, says the Chicago News. These plans contemplate a $1,000,000 skyscraper on the site now occupied by the First Methodist church. Within the great building will be a large auditorium for the accommodation of the worshippers. The rest of the building will be devoted to offices.

Steps to improve the property were taken at a joint meeting of the First Methodist and the Trinity Methodist churches. A committee of three was appointed to memorialize the trustees of the property to begin work on the improvement at once.

Town's Big Dance For Farmers.

The farmers of Brown and adjoining counties in the state of Minnesota are to have the time of their lives on Feb. 16, according to the plans of Manager Charles Gottschalk of the new auditorium, says an Aberdeen (Minn.) correspondent of the St. Paul Pioneer Press. He plans to open the auditorium on that date with a farmers' dance, and his committees are scouring the country roundabout with sheaves of invitations, which are being eagerly accepted. The affair is to be exclusive. No townspeople are to be admitted to the building on the night of the ball. Farmers, their wives, their sisters, daughters and sweethearts are to have full sway, and the affair promises to be one of the biggest and most successful social events ever held in Aberdeen. The dancing floor will accommodate 130 sets in a square dance and thousands of dancers for the waltzes and two-steps.

Motor to Force Air to Diver.

Takao Iwanami, a young Japanese draftsman employed by the Southern railway, has patented an apparatus by which air is forced down to a diver, not by hand power, but by means of a small motor, says a Washington special dispatch to the New York World. This insures a steady flow of air.

OVER THE PRECIPICE.

A Tragic Adventure in a Blizzard in the Antarctic.

Here is an adventure in the antarctic regions taken from Captain Robert F. Scott's "The Voyage of the Discovery." Nine men are returning from a sledge expedition in a blinding snowstorm: "An unusually violent squall prevented us from seeing even one another. I immediately ordered a chain to be formed at right angles and extending across our track, each man keeping in touch with the rest, with the idea of intercepting Hare, who was missing, when he came on. We shouted and blew whistles, and while this was going on Evans stepped back on to a patch of bare, smooth ice and shot out of sight immediately. Thinking the sledge to be one of the short ones so common in the folds of the hills, Barnes sat down and deliberately started to slide in Evans' track. In a moment or two the sledge grew steeper, and soon he was going at a pace which left him no power to control his movements. He whipped out his clasp knife and dug it into the ice, but the blade snapped off short and failed to check his wild career. In a flash the ice changed to snow, which grew softer until, in a smother of flying particles, his rapid flight was arrested and he stood up to find Evans within a few feet of him."

A third man joined them in similar fashion: "Realizing the impossibility of ascending again by the way they had come, they started to descend, but within four paces of the place at which they had been brought to rest they found that the slope ended suddenly in a steep precipice, beyond which they could see nothing but the clouds of whirling snow. Even as they recoiled from this new danger and dimly realized the merciful patch of soft snow which had saved them from it, a yelping dog flew past them, clawing madly at the icy slope, and disappeared forever into the gloom beyond." The six others eventually moved on until they, too, found themselves on an awkward slope: "Their leader suddenly saw the precipice beneath his feet and far below, through the wreathing snow, the sea."

"Another step would have taken him over the edge. He sprang back with a cry of warning, and those behind him, hearing it, dug their heels instinctively into the surface, and, with one exception, all succeeded in stopping. What followed was over in an instant. Before his horror-stricken companions had time to think poor Vince, unable to check himself with his soft fur boots, had shot from among them, flashed past the leader and disappeared." Vince was never seen again, but Hare, the first missing man, staggered back to the ship two days after the others, remembering nothing between struggling to a patch of rock for shelter and waking thirty-six hours later covered with snow."

BLACK FRIDAY.

The Mad Scene in the Gold Room on That Fateful Occasion.

In the middle of the gold room was a small fountain. Around this the day's proceedings began, writes T. Hendrick in the American Magazine. Jay Gould's own brokers, pale, haggard, half distrustful and half ashamed of their work, started the bids. Gold had closed the day previously at 144. Now a Gould broker offered 145 for $100,000 gold.

His only response were the curses and fist shakings of a bedraggled, perspiring crowd.

"One hundred and forty-six for $100,000 gold."

Still there was no response.

"One hundred and forty-seven."

Each advancing point meant millions in profits to Gould and likewise millions in losses to the community. At every advance the crowds, losing all restraint, alternately roared and wept.

"One hundred and forty-eight."

"One hundred and forty-nine."

Above the pandemonium the monotonous voices of the Gould brokers could be heard, quietly, remorselessly putting up the price.

"One hundred and fifty."

"One hundred and fifty-one."

At this point the buying began. Hitherto the crowd had been held magically spellbound. The audacity of the Gould brokers had paralyzed all. Board brokers were particularly dazed. In face of the clique's demonstrated power no one seemed able to bid, even to make the feeblest attempt to check the terrible rise.

A few uptown merchants now, however, started to purchase. Soon the bidding degenerated into panic. Every one scrambled to get his gold now while the price, judged by what had already happened and the unquestioned power of the gang, seemed low. All purchases, however, meant enormous losses.

Fortunes accumulated through years of self sacrificing toil were swept away in a moment. In their crazy men ran aimlessly about the room, moaning, screaming, vainly appealing for help. Outside, where the crowds breathlessly waited announcements, the same scenes were repeated. Ruined men, unable to get into the building itself, pushed, cursed and fought. At each rise in the price the rage against Gould increased. When the bid reached 150 there were cries of "Lynch! Lynch!"

And meanwhile what was the plotter of all this mischief doing? He was selling gold. To whom was he selling? To Fisk and all his own associates. He was the only man who really understood the situation—who knew, that is, upon what a flimsy basis his "corner" rested. He sent Fisk, Belden and Speyer into the gold room to advance the price ostensibly for the benefit of the clique, and when it had reached a certain point unloaded on his own account. He had sold largely, unknown to his confederates, the day before.

ONE KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED.

Another Tragic Chapter in Religious Feud in New York.

New York, Feb. 1.—One man was killed and two others were probably mortally wounded at night in the Syrian quarter of New York city, marking another tragic chapter in the feud that has been raging between the adherents of different religious faiths among the Syrians here. The man killed, John Stefan, was a brother of Archbishop Stefan, the Syrian Roman Catholic prelate now visiting in Pittsburgh. Stefan was shot to death in a Syrian restaurant, where he was dining with a party of friends. Two cousins, Elias Zarik and George Zarik, residents of Brooklyn, entered the place, drew revolvers and began to fire. Stefan fell from his chair after the first volley, a bullet through his right shoulder and another in the right side of the head. He died almost instantly. Another of the diners, Raphael Sholish, was shot in the back and mortally wounded.

In the melee that followed the firing of the first shot George Zarik, the police say, accidentally sent a bullet into his cousin's chest, the ball lodging over the heart. He is in a hospital in a critical condition. George Zarik is locked up accused of being an accomplice to the murder. Four other prisoners are also under arrest, one on suspicion and three as witnesses.
